

14.2.39.

Dear Mr. Walsh.

(i) I telephoned this morning to the National Council for Civil Liberties, and said that I might not be able to attend owing to a previous engagement; and that I had <sup>suggested</sup> ~~asked~~ you to go going..

The lady who replied said if asked at the door you could give my name, (I am a member) as sponsor.

(ii) It is possible that activities in Northern Ireland will come into the Report, or that at question time it will be possible to ask whether anything has been done to clear up the Report on Northern Ireland.

This is the chief British agency concerning itself with the problem, and I think it would be well if your organisation could be represented.

Last year I asked a question such as is suggested here. Otherwise there would have been no mention of the subject.

(iii) It was very nice seeing you, and thanks much for your invitation to dine, as for the last. I think you have one of the most difficult problems in history to tackle: it's simple in itself; but no one has ever succeeded in doing anything about it!

Enough after letting you of the difficulties of the subject, a letter awaited me from Belfast, expressing the delight of an old Presbyterian elder with my efforts.

With best wishes & thanks, as member to Mr. Hildy & Miss Hildy,

Yours very sincerely,

W. S. Arundell.
